

PETRA PILLAR

Round dining table Ref: PETRA PILLAR DTR5 / PETRA PILLAR DTRM

In Greek mythology, Medusa could turn her beholder into stone just by a look. For wood, this process takes millions of years resulting in a breathtaking beautiful dense material. Buried in the soil, the enclosure of metals and minerals during this natural transformation give each piece a unique set of colors and veins. Each pillar is carved out of a unique petrified trunk and has its own shades and characteristics. The combination with the glass top lets this precious material created by nature be the center part of attention.
